

HEALTH INSURANCE CLAIM FORM

APPROVED BY NATIONAL UNIFORM CLAIM COMMITTEE (NUCC) 02/12

1500cms.com Software Instructions

Primary Use:

Use to fill, save, and print the standard HCFA claim form.

Features:

Templates include features to save and edit 1500cms.com templates with Adobe Reader. Templates available can Printing on Blank paper or Printing on Pre Filled Forms.

Warnings:

Templates are tested and work with Adobe Reader Version XI, (users must have the current version) get the current version at <http://get.adobe.com/reader/>

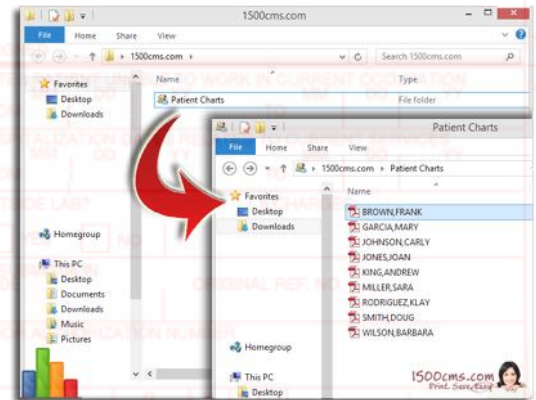

If you are not using the latest version you will experience problems. The biggest problem clients face is having out of date software. Adobe updates also include very important security updates. Do not open 1500cms.com templates in your web browser or "stock" PDF readers. Use Adobe Reader XI for best results.

Instructions:

Instructions for Mac and Windows.

Templates are sent in "ZIP" format. Most Operating systems include software to extract zip files. If not able to open download zipex.com or other zip software.

1. Extract the download to the desktop (or desired location)
2. Open the User Agreement.
3. Open the "1500cms.com 02/12" using Adobe Reader XI <http://get.adobe.com/reader/>
4. Complete, and "Save As" each Patient as a new PDF.

When printing select "Actual Size" (please review image below)

Important: "Choose paper source PDF page size" this option should be checked with some configuration. Please try both "unchecked" and "checked" to determine the best for your settings.

If your print screen does not look like the one below ↓↓↓ then you do not have the current version of Adobe Reader. You must download free at <http://get.adobe.com/reader/>

